This session will:

- Take a practical approach when commencing a new case
- Practical Guidance to carry out key research tasks
- Search strategies to achieve targeted results
- Find relevant cases, legislation, forms and precedents

What do we know?

Who is involved?

When, where and how did it happen?

New case or has it been filed before?

What has changed?

How to use Lexis Advance to check facts and legal interpretations

The image shows a screenshot of a web browser displaying a feedback survey. The page header includes the LexisNexis logo and the text 'LexisNexis Knowledge Network Pacific'. A navigation menu contains links for Home, Legal, Business, Risk and Compliance, Public Webinars, Learning Options, and About Us. The main heading is 'Webinar Feedback Survey'. The survey consists of four sections: 1. A text input field for 'Your Name'. 2. A text input field for 'Your Organisation'. 3. A rating scale for 'How would you rate your webinar experience?' with five categories: Excellent, Good, Average, and Poor. Each category has a radio button. The categories are applied to five criteria: 'Clarity of instructions received in the meeting invitation', 'Ease of joining the meeting', 'Quality of sound', 'Ability to follow the trainer', and 'Visual/aesthetic appearance'. 4. A section for 'Were your expectations of the session met?' with radio buttons for 'Yes' and 'No', followed by a text input field for 'Please provide us with feedback:'.

Feedback Survey will be emailed shortly
